

Elaine Pruis is widely regarded as an expert in the top-level domain space, with a decade of experience in policy work, business development, implementation, and operations.

As one of the founders of Minds + Machines, a top-level domain registry services consultancy, Elaine held several key roles including Vice President of Client Services, Chief Technology Officer, and Chief of Registry Operations. Elaine previously served as a liaison to the Council of Country Code Administrators (CoCCA), where she performed registry system administration and training as well as important policy work.

Elaine holds a magna cum laude bachelor's degree in Social Science: Science, Technology & Society from Michigan Technological University.