

Richard Tindal has 14 years of domain industry experience, including running one of the world's largest top-level domain registries. He was head of NeuStar's domain name registry, where he twice secured the contract from the U.S. government to run .US, and where he successfully applied for and was awarded the .BIZ top-level domain. He also managed numerous back-end contracts for other TLDs.

Previously, Richard was Director of International Sales for Network Solutions and General Manager of U.S. Operations for Melbourne IT.

Richard holds a Bachelor of Business in Information Technology with honors from the University of Southern Queensland
